About MAICO

The mission of MAICO (Madison Area Intergroup Central Office) is to help A.A. groups within its service area (South Central Wisconsin) carry the A.A. message. MAICO helps coordinate and facilitate communication and cooperation among individual A.A. groups, area 12-step and other committees, and components of the A.A. service structure. MAICO provides needed services that are beyond the scope and ability of any individual A.A. group, and is at all times responsible to the groups it serves.

May 2013: A Call for Sponsorship

A member can't say enough about that special one-on-one bond of recovery

I think we could emphasize the importance of sponsorship more in the program, especially to newcomers, and how vital it is in working our AA program. Although we sometimes refer to our sponsors when we share at meetings, we don't often focus on what sponsorship does for us, both as sponsees and as sponsors.

I wasn't really aware of how much of an impact my sponsor had on my recovery until I had to move away to another town for my job. I was sober for about 18 months and had done the Steps with him, including a Fifth Step. When I arrived in my new town, the first thing that I did was to seek out where the AA meetings were (his suggestion). I was pleased to find out that there was a meeting every night of the week. I soon became a welcomed regular.

Over time, as I shared my story with this new group, an interesting pattern emerged: I found myself quoting my sponsor on many topics and ideas that he had shared with me and how he had impacted my recovery. I was discovering that my experiences with him were a huge part of my recovery. It became clear to me that through him, I had a lot to offer in the rooms, for people were coming to me after meetings to say that they liked what I had to say.

I suppose at that point I could have taken credit for all this perceived knowledge, but I knew that this is not what my sponsor was doing when he shared it with me. He was just passing on what was given to him.

Over time, several members asked me to be their sponsor, and I was then able to experience the rewards offered on the other side of the sponsorship card. When asked, I would simply explain to them what I believed my role was and then try to help them to get the best shot at the AA program I could provide. I found that working the Steps with another alcoholic, whether they stayed sober or not, was vital to my ongoing recovery.

I have since moved back to the town where my sponsor lives today, and my relationship with him continues to grow stronger every day. I've heard it said in the rooms that we cannot have both a friendship relationship and a sponsor relationship at the same time. But in my case, I could not disagree more. This bond we have is one of my most valued possessions today, and I will guard it with my life.

The National Alcoholics Anonymous Technology Workshop

The National Alcoholics Anonymous Technology Workshop Steering Committee (NAATW) was formed in 2014 following the first national workshop held in St. Louis, MO hosted with help from St. Louis Intergroup Central Office.

A little more than 60 members of the AA fellowship gathered together to talk about ways IT could be more helpful to the service structure. Our first workshop was filled with demonstrations from various Areas using databases to connect Bridging-the-gap volunteers to service opportunities, presentations on user interfaces, demonstrations and guidance on website designs and more. We didn't exactly know what to expect from the workshop. What we found was direction and built relationships with other AA-technology people from across the country. At the end of the workshop, the 12 Statements of Technology were voted upon to guide AA technology servants.

The Madison Area Intergroup Central Office (MAICO) sent me as a representative to check out the workshop. The first year of the workshop, only one central office was represented and I consider myself fortunate to represent not just MAICO but Wisconsin at the event.

In 2015, we met in St. Louis again to continue looking at technology solutions being used across the country. We began to identify common solutions regarding software platforms, cloud solutions and technology changes that would be scalable to handle growth in the future.

In 2016, we met in Salem-Rally, NC. Demonstrations of the Fellowship New Vision database by our General Service Office (GSO) in NY were presented. There were also presentations on security issues, anonymity, common user interfaces and mobile technology. All this came together and brought about discussions for the need to embrace technology in A.A. Back channel communications during Area events were demonstrated. Files were shared during presentations at the conference giving everyone access during presentations.

The 2017 workshop was held in Sacramento, CA and attended by 90+ members of the fellowship. Areas, Districts, Groups and Central Offices were represented and presentations on solutions filled the time with techy stuff. There were presentations on cloud technology. Also, website audiences brought many ideas and examples to help with IT decisions at various levels of the service structure. Solutions to combining group and meeting information into a common database were presented. This showed a forward looking solution for information that is currently held in silos at various levels.

At each of the workshops, the GSO was represented by Grapevine staff, IT staff, Group Records staff and class-B trustees. Their support as the fellowship worked out IT solutions provided encouragement and reinforced the upside down pyramid.

In the future, there is hope that GSO will recognize the NAATW as a service to A.A. much like your Central Offices. Possibly, leading to changes to the A.A. service manual reflecting the incorporation of technology positions as part of the service structure in the next few years.

"A.A. moves at the speed of trust" I was told by the Grapevine executive editor. It seems the fellowship is building faith in technology and the servants involved in providing solutions. This will benefit carrying the message to existing A.A. members, professionals providing services to alcoholics and newcomers to the fellowship.

The next NAATW will be held September 13-16, 2018 in Round Rock, TX where I'm told the barbecue is larger than life. Demonstrations and talks about the advances in technology and its benefit to our general service structure are sure to continue as our dust settles down and standards for methods become more focused and clear.

I would like to thank the MAICO steering committee and our Office Manager for their support, trust and dedication in bringing our Intergroup Central Office forward with the use of technology.

Thank you for allowing me to be of service as the technology chairperson for intergroup office.

Yours in service,
Patrick S., Madison Area Intergroup Technology Chairperson

Maybe I Can Help You?

What to say when a newcomer asks for your advice? One woman discovers that sobriety has given her the ability to find just the right healing words

Last night I attended an AA meeting I hadn't been to in a couple years, mainly because of scheduling rather than anything about the meeting. My sponsor, who is active in that meeting, is on a long weekend vacation and wasn't in attendance.

Two women who also have her as their sponsor were at that meeting, much to my pleasant surprise. I like them both. On the surface, they couldn't be more different from me. They're both young, been in and out of the rooms a few times, and have been addicted to drugs I never even heard of. One is sober/clean three months, the other five months. I'm the middle-aged housewife with the fulltime job, house, and car, who drank too much wine at home alone. I haven't relapsed after three years and don't plan on having that experience.

My conversations with them (one before the meeting and the other after the meeting) went like this:

Women: Where's [Sponsor]?

Me: She's at [fun holiday location]. I imagine she'll be back by Monday.

Women: Oh...I was hoping to see her. There's something I need to ask her.

Me: [trying to stay out of whatever it is] OK.

Women: Maybe you can help me.

My first thought: my sponsor always knows what to say. She just opens her mouth and words of wisdom come spilling out. I open my mouth and spew garbage! Why didn't I stay home and watch Netflix instead? I never know what to say! Dear God, why are you doing this to me? I'm not her sponsor! I wanna go home! I want my mommy!

Me: [appearing much calmer than I feel] Sure, what's up?

Both women tell me the pain and agony in their heart. I fight back my tears while holding each of them. I've seen my sponsor do that, so I do it, too. We relate on a very elementary level because we did what we did to avoid feeling those powerful emotions. I shared my hurts and assured both women that it's OK to feel those emotions again. We don't need the alcohol or drugs to hide the pain. God will heal them (and me) on his schedule and not necessarily as quickly as we would like. Each thanks me for listening and giving sound advice. All I did was open my mouth and words came out. Apparently healing words each needs to hear to stay sober for another 24 hours.

Yes, I trust God—just not all the time and not entirely. I always feel that anxiety when someone wants my thoughts on a problem. I'm so afraid of saying the wrong thing I have often chosen to say nothing. That's definitely one of my character defects. I'm learning, though, and each time gets a little easier. I also need to remember not to get cocky. Sometimes my mind wanders into the "I'm Miss AA and full of spirituality" territory. Gotta watch that tendency, too.

Trying to stay humble and sober one day at a time.

Grapevine Quote

“Win or Lose”

Escondido, CA, August 2001

“My sponsor...gave me some good advice. “Take the words success and failure out of your vocabulary. Replace them with honesty and effort.”

By the Book

New to sponsorship, she turned to the Big Book to help her help newcomers

One day during my morning meditation, I became aware that I was not fulfilling my purpose in AA. I wasn't carrying the message of recovery through sponsoring others. I knew I needed to get into action. But there was a slight problem. I had not been asked to sponsor anyone for 22 out of the 26 years I had been sober.

I didn't know how that could be changed. I felt God was responsible to put something together and I trusted him.

Within an hour, while at a meeting, I was approached by a woman who asked me to sponsor her. That day marked the beginning of a new phase. My life opened up as I did Twelfth Step work with others.

In just one week, six people asked me to sponsor them. Within a month, six more asked me as well! I had my work cut out for me.

As I went through the Big Book with these newcomers, I found the use of the Preface and forewords a wonderful introduction to Alcoholics Anonymous. The pages give newcomers a rich history of how AA grew and introduces them to the importance of the Traditions. The chapter, "The Doctor's Opinion" gives a full explanation of alcoholism from Dr. Silkworth. And we would proceed through the book from there.

It amazes me why I never thought to use the Big Book to bring people through the Steps before. Sponsees are not following my suggestions—they are following Bill's suggestions. The legacy Bill W. left behind is a real treasure. One-on-one reading and sharing about the book with new members is a highlight to my days.

DAILY REFLECTIONS

September 28

LOVE WITHOUT STRINGS

Practical experience shows that nothing will so much insure immunity from drinking as intensive work with other alcoholics.

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS, p. 89

Sponsorship held two surprises for me. First, that my sponsees cared about me. What I had thought was gratitude was more like love. They want me to be happy, to grow and remain sober. Knowing how they felt kept me from drinking more than once. Second, I discovered that I was able to love someone else responsibly, with respectful and genuine concern for that person's growth. Before that time, I had thought that my ability to care sincerely about another's well-being had atrophied from lack of use. To learn that I can love, without greed or anxiety, has been one of the deepest gifts the program has given me. Gratitude for that gift has kept me sober many times.
